

UWFOV Foundation seeks nominations for 'Outstanding Alumni Award'

THE NEWS-RECORD

MENASHA — The University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Foundation is seeking nominations for its 2008 Outstanding Alumni Award.

"This award recognizes outstanding alumni who reflect the ideals of UWFOV, and whose achievements and contributions within their field of work or in their community have made a significant difference," said Lisa Weiner, executive director of the foundation.

The foundation has put forth a series of qualifications for those who are interested in nominating a UWFOV alum for this prestigious recognition.

Nominees must be an alumnus or alumna of UWFOV and must have completed at least two semesters of work at the Menasha campus. Further, nominees must have completed work at UWFOV at least 10 years ago. Nominees must have demonstrated outstanding achievement and/or leadership in his or her chosen profession.

Weiner

UWFOV alums nominated for this award also must have contributed to the quality of life in their respective community and provided inspiration to others.

Individuals nominated for the alumni award cannot be serving on the UWFOV Foundation Board of Directors at the time of their nomination.

Nomination forms are available online at <http://www.uwfox.uwc.edu/foxfoundation/alumawardform.html>, or through the UWFOV Foundation office.

For more information about the UWFOV Foundation and the alumni award, contact Weiner at 920-832-2849, at lisa.weiner@uwc.edu, or visit <http://www.uwfox.uwc.edu/foxfoundation/>.

Nominations must be submitted to the Foundation by Jan. 31.